

SPEEDPAINTING

We prepare a stencil with your desired design, spread across multiple canvases. The creative part? That's up to you. With speedpainting, we essentially mean: design and paint. Creativity is encouraged more than logic. That doesn't mean the end result won't be beautiful... in fact, it usually leads to unexpectedly stunning artworks.

With 15 years of experience, we've learned how best to support teams in their creative process. We've developed various techniques we're happy to share to inspire participants, classic paintbrushes are used as little as possible.

Beforehand, we'll discuss and agree on the theme you'd like to work with. Based on that input, we'll create a fully customized sticker stencil tailored to your company. We'll apply this stencil across multiple canvases in advance. Each team then creates its own artwork. At the end of the workshop, all the canvases are brought together and only then does the full design become visible.

We'll determine the final size of the artwork together, so it can be displayed in a designated spot at your company.

The workshop typically lasts between 1.5 and 2 hours. Each group of about 6 people will have plenty of space to let their creativity flow and create their own piece. Standard canvas size is 1.20m by 0.60m, but we can adjust this according to your preferences.

We provide each participant with an apron and all necessary materials: paint, rollers, paper towels, dryers, sponges, plates, and tools for creative painting techniques. Once the stencil is removed after painting, the message or design becomes clearly visible: clean and striking on the artwork.

The result: a final product that truly deserves a place in your office or even at home!
